

Bridgers

Date

Thu, 01/06/2022 - 16:05

Activity

Skiing

A little more detail, quite variable depth from 12" to 36". 6" of facets at the ground, 4 finger crust with 6" more of facets topped with another 4 finger crust and 8 or 10 inches of recent snow. Not much bed surface and not very cohesive snow. Columns mostly disintegrated when loaded. The deeper drifts were more dense throughout, with no cracks or settlements

Region

Bridger Range

Location (from list)

Truman Gulch

Observer Name

PHinz